To legally use any of the materials in this collection, please note the following:

- The bulk of the hymnody is covered by a CCLI license. Therefore, a congregation must obtain its own CCLI license. Information can be found at <http://www.ccli.com/UnitedStates.cfm>. Sturgeon Bay Moravian Church's CCLI license does not cover use of the materials by other congregations.
- A reference to Sturgeon Bay Moravian Church's CCLI license number is printed in the preliminary pages of the booklet. That number and reference should be changed before creating printed booklets.
- The hymnody and text not covered by a CCLI license can be found in the Copyright Permissions Database, which has been saved on the accompanying CD. Permission must be obtained, and appropriate fees paid for each item in the database. A sample letter of request is also saved on the CD.

The booklet has been created with Microsoft Word. For the comfort of all singers, the melody line for all music has been included, and the Advent and Palm Sunday liturgies from the Moravian Book of Worship have been printed in full. As only the melody line has been provided, the accompanist is free to use harmonizations from any source. The booklet is divided into two sections, which allows room for additional materials to be added. A third section is included on the CD but does not appear in the printed copy.

It is our hope that these resources enhance your congregational worship experience!
