Coronal Energy launching new solar project in Florence County

Coronal Energy, a leading independent solar power and energy storage provider, announced plans for the construction of a new solar project -- the Rankin Solar Center -- in Florence County. The new development is projected to bring approximately $15 million in capital investment.

The Rankin Solar Center will generate 10 megawatts of clean, renewable solar power, enough to power approximately 2,000 homes annually. With world-class capabilities in development, financing, engineering and construction, Coronal Energy owns, operates and manages a 333-megawatt portfolio with a multi-gigawatt development pipeline.

Located off Corrie Farm Road in Florence, Coronal Energy's new development is expected to come online in the fourth quarter of 2019. For more information on the company, visit www.coronalenergy.com.
