

What Happens when we Come Together

“A Christian alone is no Christian,” in the words of the Bishop of Canterbury. And so we come together Sunday by Sunday, prayer by prayer, song by song, smile by smile, deed by deed, to be Christ to one another and in the world. We share, we celebrate, we encourage, we discover, we reach out knowing, that together we can accomplish the works God sets before us.

We anticipate another exciting year of ministries, activities and programs at Saint Boniface. We have committed our sharing time with one another. Now the Vestry asks to commit to supporting our $884,545 budget.

Worship and Spirituality

What would our lives be like without the chance to come together each week to glorify God, replenish our spirits and support one another? The power of the liturgy, the beauty of our choirs, the insight from our sermons, and the solace and strength gathered at the communion rail – all nourish and sustain us from week to week. Our opportunities for worship and spirituality are as diverse as our congregation: Sunday morning and midweek Eucharists, Evening Prayer and Healing Services, monthly Taizé vespers, services at an assisted living center, special masses on feast and holy days, baptisms, weddings and funerals, meditation, Labyrinth walks, and retreats.

◆ We support these ministries with $292,230 from our budget, and 11,250 hours of our time.

Teaching and Education

Each week, from the toddlers to the centenarians among us, our desire to deepen our understanding of who we are as people of God and followers of Jesus, is met through our teaching and education opportunities. For all ages and interests we offer classes and workshops, discussion groups, outside speakers to stir our minds.

◆ We support these ministries with $212,530 from our budget, and 10,584 hours of our time.

Healing and Fellowship

Our individual wellness and our wholeness as a parish are nourished through by the times we come together in healing and fellowship. We visit the sick, pray with those in need, open our Healing Mission. We gather over coffee, dinner, bridge, knitting, conversation (in English or Spanish), painting or breakfast. These times together celebrate the joy of friendship, and nurture the grace to minister to ourselves and others in compassion.

◆ We support these ministries with $212,530 from our budget, and 6,008 hours of our time.

Service and Outreach

Coming together gives us strength to go forth into the world in Christ’s name. We volunteer in the community, travel on mission trips, support needy charities locally and abroad, work for justice, steward God’s creation, shelter the homeless, and more.

◆ We support these ministries with $168,255 from our budget, and 17,022 hours of our time.
