

Share, Save, Spend ...Putting our financial priorities in order

Nathan Dungan, a nationally recognized speaker, author, and trainer on personal finances and establishing priorities, will be at Christ Church Episcopal, February 6

*Nathan Dungan is the author of Prodigal Sons and Material Girls, and is the co-author of a textbook for high school students, Personal Finance: A Lifetime Responsibility. He has been a featured guest on CBS, CNN, PBS and public radio's Marketplace Money, Sound Money and Speaking of Faith. He is widely quoted in The New York Times, The Washington Post, The Wall Street Journal, USA Today, Business Week, and TIME magazine. Nathan's message is tailored to all age groups - and is particularly relevant in these difficult economic times.*

Nathan is working with several Episcopal dioceses as well as the national office of the Episcopal Church. For over 2 years he has been working closely with the Colorado Diocese on a stewardship program involving more than 30 parishes.

What these churches have found and what Christ Church has discovered is that Nathan has a unique approach to the sticky topic of money. He is knowledgeable, fresh and yet non-judgmental. And most importantly, he has a well-laid-out educational program, complete with materials that allow any church or organization to carry on his program long after he is gone.

He will conduct two sessions on February 6 - appropriate for individuals and families wishing to bring some sanity into their financial lives. He will also train facilitators who will carry on this educational program in the weeks and months to come. There is no charge for the workshop other than the cost of workbook and materials required (see registration form).
