WHO IS... MITCH FORMAN?

Mitch was raised in a traditional Reform Jewish home near Boston. He went to the University of Massachusetts and focused all his attention on a culinary career. Mitch worked at some of the finest hotels in Boston, achieving his goal of cooking with the best chefs in the world. However, as a result of his wild lifestyle, he could no longer keep up with the high demands and pressure of cooking at the top, and was fired from his job.

While lying on his couch one day, he realized that his life was a wreck and prayed to God for the first time in years. The next day, he quit smoking and drinking. As Mitch began to trust God for the first time in his life, he talked with a Christian co-worker about the Bible and Jesus. He started to attend church, and finally began to grasp the Gospel message.

Mitch invited Jesus into his life in 1987, and moved to San Francisco the following year. He became involved with Jews for Jesus and was a missionary with them for 12 years. In 1997, Mitch married Kina, a second-generation Jewish believer, and today they have two young daughters.

In 2002, Mitch and his family moved back to Boston to help in a family business. They started to attend Grace Chapel and Mitch became involved in the adult discipleship team where he taught classes focusing on the Jewish background of the Scriptures. He is also involved in the leadership of Beth Yeshua a Russian Jewish Messianic congregation in Newton.

This year Mitch moved back into full time ministries accepting the position of VP of US Ministries for Chosen People Ministries, the oldest Jewish mission in the United States. Mitch will be based in Boston where he hopes to minister to the 250,000 Jewish people as well as the 200,000 students who go to Harvard, BU and M.I.T.
