FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

SIDE DISHES AND COOKIES

Frances Hunt was one of the shining saints of B-L Presbyterian Church. It wasn't because she was an elder, although she was a great one. It wasn't because she sang in the choir, although she had a lovely alto voice. In my view, Saint Frances earned her name because she made the most mouth watering, delicious, unbelievably tasty homemade cinnamon rolls on the planet! If more churches were to learn to bake cinnamon rolls like Frances', we would not have an evangelism problem. When I was a student at PC, I loved to attend our church's annual trip to Montreat, loved it because the fellowship and worship were very meaningful, but what really was grand was getting to take the leftovers, especially Frances' cinnamon rolls, back to my dorm. Strangely, the guys on my hall were much friendlier when I had homemade cinnamon rolls in my room. God bless Frances Hunt. This Sunday we will enjoy our annual College Sunday where many students from PC and from the new Pharmacy School will attend worship. We are planning some special music, Dr. John Griffith and the Rev. Lindy Vogado will be assisting me in worship, and the College Ministry Committee is planning a superb lunch in the Christian Life Center afterwards. The church is taking care of the grilled meats, thanks to the generosity of Jason Bundrick (owner of The Study Club and member of our church), and all church members are asked to bring a big side dish to share and a generous batch of cookies. We will trust that God will bless our meal and multiply our offerings to feed the masses. If there are any cookies left, what fun it would be to send them back to campus with the students. This occasion brings to mind a verse from Scripture: "They devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching and fellowship, to the breaking of bread and the prayers" (Acts 2:47). The apostles and disciples of Jesus shared worship and food, shared themselves with one another, shared in the provision of Christ by the Holy Spirit, and shared the provision of Christ with others. What a gift it is to be a church whose identity is so deeply connected to the ongoing story of Thornwell Home for Children, Presbyterian College, and now a School of Pharmacy! Spread the word about worship and our big meal. Dust off your casserole dishes and recipes. May the smells of grilled chicken, brown rice, macaroni and cheese, chocolate chip cookies, and, why not, cinnamon rolls, fill our nostrils as we ready ourselves for a wonderful day, the Lord's day, Sunday August 29th. Sunday School: 9:45 AM, Worship 11:00 AM Come one, come y'all! – Pastor Wain
