

DAYSPRING FARM

2020 CSA SUBSCRIBER-GROWER AGREEMENT

1. Each subscriber will receive a bag of produce weekly beginning the first week of May and ending early September(19 weeks). The assortment of produce will include slicing and cherry tomatoes, beans, sweet corn, new potatoes, cucumbers, peppers, sugar snap peas, crowder peas, broccoli, cabbage, lettuce, spinach, arugula, oriental greens, pac choi, chinese cabbage, swiss chard, beets, summer and winter squash, cantaloupes, watermelons, eggplant, radishes, onions, garlic, kale, turnips, and sweet potatoes. Shares will also include strawberries and the most popular herbs including basil and parsley.
2. Subscribers receive either a full or half share. A full share is on average a good amount for a household of 3 or more persons. A half share will serve on average a household of 1 or 2 persons.
3. Produce is grown in accordance with good ecological management practices, by the use of compost and natural soil amendments for fertilization, cover crops, natural pest control and crop rotation. Dayspring farmers regard building a healthy soil as the foundation for responsible, sustainable agriculture.
4. Subscribers agree to pay either $580 for a full share or $380 for a half share. Either full payment or a deposit is made at the time of registration for membership. If a deposit is made, full payment is requested by May 1, 2020. Payments can be made beyond May 1 by arrangement with the farmers.
5. Deliveries are made at designated distribution locations in the Williamsburg, Toano, Gloucester, Hayes, Yorktown and Topping areas. Subscribers who live near the farm, or are outside the distribution area, may pick up their produce at the farm.
6. Subscribers are responsible for picking up their produce regularly. The subscriber will notify the farmers at least a day in advance if s/he is going to be away and will not be picking up the produce. Subscribers are encouraged to find substitutes (friends, neighbors, family etc.) to get that week's share. Produce not picked up will be donated.
7. Dayspring Farm maintains an open farm policy and subscribers are welcome to visit the farm and see how their food is grown.
8. Dayspring farmers are active in local and regional associations with other organic and sustainable growers including the Virginia Association for Biological Farming and the Southern Sustainable Agriculture Working Group.

Dayspring Farm, 942 Buena Vista Rd., Cologne, VA 23181
804-785-9401, dayspringfarm@aol.com, www.dayspringfarm.org

"A significant part of the pleasure of eating is in one's accurate consciousness of the lives and the world from which food comes." -- Wendell Berry