

Episcopal Diocese of Southern Virginia

Suggested Blog Commenting Guidelines

If you can't be polite, don't share your thoughts. Expressing a negative view is certainly acceptable, but personal attacks are off-limits.

Please keep your comments to 400 or fewer words. Blog comments are a rather abbreviated medium, so please respect the time and space of this blog and its readers by keeping your comments brief.

Please keep your comments on topic. Please make sure your comments are relevant to the discussion and original blog post.

You are solely responsible for the content you post. The administrators of this blog have the right (but not the obligation) to review, screen, delete, edit and/or move any content posted on the blog. We invite and value your opinions, but remind readers that opinions expressed by commenters are not necessarily those of the Episcopal Diocese of Southern Virginia and have not been checked for accuracy.

No spam. If you advertise a service or a website, expect your post to be deleted and your IP banned.