

Day 3 Contagious Love
Thursday, March 19, 2020

Happy Birthday!

Maria is saying, Dad, you are weird. But, truly, it is Coletta's birthday today. And yet, this coronavirus pandemic has made our lives strange, weird, and isolated. We should be getting together with our son and his family to celebrate. Not so much. We three are so blessed to have each other in the same house. There are too many of our flock who are on their own- scared, alone, and lonely. So it is helpful to remember Matthew 18:20 - "For where two or three are gathered together in My Name, I am there in the midst of them."

Thank goodness we have virtual togetherness when physical togetherness is not possible. For me, the call to action is how can we all reach out to each other on a regular ongoing basis for as long as it takes to be the church together. After all, prayer was and is the original virtual Presence. Peace and engaged connection to all.
