David Kienzle came into my office the other day and asked me to “look over” his Tydings article for September (found in this newsletter on page 8). As usual, there was nothing to add, delete, or correct. In his article he included a picture of a plaque that hangs on a wall in the Choir Room honoring past Organist and Choirmasters. The last inscription on the plaque reads:

David J. Kienzle

Soon enough, the inscription will be updated to include David’s retirement date.

There is a popular poem written by Linda Ellis called “The Dash.” A man, speaking at a friend’s funeral, refers to his friend’s head stone. The speaker references the birthday and the date of death found on the stone, but then goes on to mention “what mattered most of all was the dash between those years.” Why? “For that dash represents all the time they spent alive on earth and now only those who loved them know what that little line is worth.”

Well—thanks be to God—David is not dead, or dying. We’re talking about a plaque, not a headstone! Yet there, on the plaque, we will find a dash, and that dash will remind us of how privileged we are to live that dash alongside David. As we celebrate his retirement, this we know: the excellence he has brought to our worship is unparalleled in this region. His worship leadership has allowed each of us to come through, and own, the fullest range of human emotion and response. He has used his God-given talent and brilliance to move us—heart, mind, and spirit—with wisdom, grace, and understanding, all the while granting each of us the opportunity to grieve, rejoice, celebrate, delight, and commemorate life with integrity and authenticity. He and his music serve to stir us to deeper faith and prayer, thus provoking us to engage the fullness of the Kingdom of God and the life of service offered us there.

All of this might lead you to believe that David is simply a finely gifted worship musician. The truth of the matter is that God gifted David with music as a means of ministry. David is every bit a Minister of Word and Sacrament as I am. His “ordination” is not acknowledged on a piece of paper, but it is surely written on my heart. For those of us privileged to know him in the everyday of life, we recognize David to be a man of extraordinary faith, deep prayer, and unfailing commitment. Within him you will find the compassion of Peter, the teaching ability of Paul, the wisdom of Solomon, the righteousness of Isaiah, the determination of Moses, and the passion of John. He lives “as the Lord requires, doing justice, loving kindness, and walking humbly with his God.”

More specifically, David witnesses to each of us what I believe to be the Apostle Paul’s considerable elaboration of Micah’s charge.

Let love be genuine; hate what is evil, hold fast to what is good; love one another with mutual affection; outdo one another in showing honor. Do not lag in zeal, be ardent in spirit, serve the Lord. Rejoice in hope, be patient in suffering, persevere in prayer. Contribute to the needs of the saints; extend hospitality to strangers. Bless those who persecute you; bless and do not curse them. Rejoice with those who rejoice, weep with those who weep. Live in harmony with one another, do not be haughty, but associate with the lowly; do not claim to be wiser than you are. Do not repay anyone evil for evil, but take thought for what is noble in the sight of all. (Romans 12:9-17)

David, it has been my particular honor to work beside you these past 17 years. And I “praise God from whom all blessings flow” for your singular witness of faith and service. I suspect you learned early on that you have been blessed to be a blessing. A blessing you have been. A blessing you remain. Peace to you my friend.

Where’s my Directory?!?

For those that had photos taken for the directory, your free directory will be available to pick up beginning Sunday, September 15 at the table in Cloister Hall. If you did not have your picture taken, directories are available to purchase for $20 weekdays in the church office.

Thank you,
Jennie George

“A Return to Paris”
Our First Event This Fall
In the Christ Church Music Series
Freewill offering received.

Concert Organist James Welch made a memorable impact on our audience when he performed here at Christ Church in April, 2013. When he returns this fall, he’ll bring with him echoes of Paris and an homage to Notre Dame Cathedral. Not long ago this organist from Palo Alto, California was invited to give a recital at Notre Dame. So, when the world's most iconic remnant of Gothic architecture fell victim to a disastrous fire last April, Jim felt a personal loss like so many others. True, the organ high in the west gallery since 1868—and forever the symbol of French organ culture—was spared, as it was through two world wars. But the 300 ft. spire atop the cathedral collapsed and the rambling roof of lead tiles crumbled and the future of the building was uncertain.

Visions of Notre Dame and the city surrounding it will come to life at the 4 o'clock concert when Jim makes his second appearance at our sanctuary organ. Our Gibbs-Preyer Schantz Organ, he claims, is one of the finest he has played in his career.

The program opens with “Toccata parisienne,” written for him to premiere at the cathedral. Other masterworks along this theme include pieces by César Franck, George Gershwin (“An American in Paris”), and Louis Vierne. With these three movements from the famous first organ symphony, Jim pays tribute to the blind organist/composer who for 37 years was organist of Notre Dame and died at the console there after completing his 1,750th recital in the cathedral. Adding variety to the program will be a Bach toccata and a Puccini aria arrangement, and a few other surprises.

James Welch is organist for Santa Clara University and St. Mark’s Episcopal Church in Palo Alto. He received the Doctor of Musical Arts degree in organ performance from Stanford University with further studies in France and Austria. He has concertized internationally from the Far East to the Middle East, and in the U.S. has appeared at venues from the National Cathedral in Washington, D.C. to the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake City. As a specialist in Latin American organ music, he has edited three volumes of organ music by Mexican composers. He has released numerous CD’s on a variety of pipe organs.

For the last four years Jim has been a volunteer bishop in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, pastoring around 200 university students and millennials employed by Google, Apple or various other Silicon Valley pursuits.

Thank you for the warm welcome you gave our children and the great feedback you shared as they joined us with their families in Worship this summer. There is no better way for children to learn about and appreciate Worship than watching and learning from their family. With the support of the Worship Ministry, we are going to continue to welcome our school age children into worship through December. Our nursery will remain open, and our preschoolers will continue to go to Kids' Church for class following the Children's Message as they have done in the past. The children’s area will remain available in the back of the Sanctuary. The Children's, Music, and Worship Ministries are excited to explore the many ways our children can participate and lead in our Worship as we move forward. Thank you as always for the love and support that you give to the children of CPC.
60 FOR 60

CELEBRATING

OF CHRISTIAN CAMPING AT

CAMP WAKONDA

This year, we are celebrating the 60th anniversary of Christian camping at Wakonda! Over these years, we have built a foundation of fostering God’s unconditional love in the setting of God’s amazing creation. We, at Wakonda, are looking forward to the next 60 years of connecting kids to God.

Please join us in celebrating Wakonda’s 60th anniversary by giving to our "60 for 60" fundraiser! We are looking for at least 60 people to give gifts that will go to develop the camp endowment; our goal is to raise $24,300 the amount equivalent to sending 60 kids to camp.

3 ways to give:

1) Make checks out to Camp Wakonda with “60 for 60" in the memo line
2) Go to www.wakondacamp.org/give-to-wakonda.html select the “60 for 60” button and select Camp Wakonda Endowment
3) Scan the QR code below and select Camp Wakonda Endowment

60 years of changing lives at Camp Wakonda...
giving to enable 60 more life changing years!
Have you remembered your church in your will?

We are an active and giving congregation. Besides giving to CPC each year, many of us also give to other charities in Stark County and beyond. When we pass on, however, many of us do not think to include the church in our wills. God has indeed been generous to us. Let us plan to return some of our wealth back to God to continue the work of this church. Please consider making a bequest to Christ Church in your will. You can amend your will with a call to your attorney. For questions about making a bequest to CPC, feel free to contact any member of the Endowment Ministry (Jack Burnquist, Roger Gray, Teresa Houston, Linda Norton, or Steve Stocker).

Spirit & Space Team Report

The Spirit & Space Team is pleased to announce another means of communicating with you! Look for updates from us in the form of newsletters beginning in September. Newsletters will be mailed to you and posted on the church’s website as information develops. We hope you will take the time to read them and remain informed of our progress on the Gather Us In campaign and project construction/re-construction.

As we have done in some past years, we are participating in supporting the Thanksgiving Baskets Downtown project. Christ Church has been asked to collect and donate boxes of macaroni and cheese throughout September and October to be included in the 1200 bags of thanksgiving meals they will be giving out this coming November. Donations can be dropped off in the church office or in the large box marked "Thanksgiving Baskets Mac-N-Cheese" located near the Lectern side door in the Sanctuary. Keep your eye out when you’re shopping for when they’re on sale and buy a bunch! Thank you!

Attention Families: Information was sent home regarding the start of 9:15 Sunday School classes for the fall and Kids' Church information. If you did not receive one and are not sure what class your child should be in, please let Jennie know ASAP.

Looking for an extra volunteer or two to help assist with running sound several times in December. If you are interested, please contact Brian Ohler at ohlrb@gmail.com or 330-771-4676. You can join Brian in the balcony on Sunday to see if it would be of interest and if so he can go into some more in depth training and details.

Ruth Mains Memorial Candy

Mission West is bringing back Ruth Mains’ famous Dark Chocolate Pecan Candies again this holiday season. Order Forms and the schedule of candy making sessions will be available soon.

Wakonda Is Sharing History Through Pictures from Dick Barnard

Chad Emerson, a former counselor, has spent the last year scanning and saving slides of Camp Wakonda. Some of these pictures date back to 1959. They have been on Facebook, but they are now on a special site that you can reach online without being on Facebook. Simply go to: cpc-wakonda.smugmug.com. You will find a treasure of special memories! It is a work in progress. Chad adds some pictures from month to month.

Spiritual Aging
An Intentional Journey

One Day Workshop

Saturday, November 2, 2019
9:00 am—2:00 pm

Aging brings on a lot of new challenges in life, but even at any age, life can be lived full of genuine joy and new discoveries. No matter what your age, come spend a day searching how you might experience a richer sense of God’s presence in your life!

Look for more information online, in the next Tydings, and in church!
Godspeed on September 8th
For the first week of Sunday School, EVERYONE is invited to the chapel at 9:15 AM, where we will watch a devotional video entitled, “Godspeed: The Pace of Being Known.” Afterwards, we will reflect on how God is leading us together as a community and what it means to live and minister in our parish or our local neighborhood. How is God calling us all? Join us!

Westminster Sunday School 2019-2020
This next year Westminster Hall Class will be devoted to asking the questions of faith, as we seek to understand God. Our primary guide throughout our class will be Faith Seeking Understanding: An Introduction to Christian Theology, by Dr. Daniel L. Migliore. We will not be providing any books to the class, and while reading it is not required, it could prove helpful on this year-long journey as we plumb the depths of God together. The class starts on September 15. That first week, we welcome Dr. TC Ham from Malone. Later, we look forward to hosting our local Rabbis, Dr. Keith Lloyd, and even more teachers. Bring an open mind and all your questions, as together we question and seek after God.

The Parlor Class continues to study from the Present Word.
The Intergenerational Class meets in the Upper Room.
Coffee & Conversations Classes meets in the Pine Room.

Our Christ Church Music Ministry in Transition
A Message of Gratitude from the Retiring Director of Music

This article is the last in a five-part series explaining a new phase of Music Ministry in and through Christ Church. In April we introduced Heather Cooper as the Interim Assistant Organist; in May we introduced her husband, Britt Cooper, as the Interim Director of Music; in July we reported on the “grass-roots” process of writing a new Mission Statement for Music Ministry; in August Britt wrote about the continuity that the church can expect from their new leadership; and now it is the appropriate occasion for me, the retiring Organist & Director of Music to attempt expressions of gratitude.

After 21½ years of ministry through Christ Church, a general or broad “thank you” to everyone conveys too little meaning, and yet an exhaustive list of all appropriate “thank-you’s” would require a 20-page edition of our Tydings newsletter. However, all can be summed up in that famous epigraph penned by Bach and other composers: Soli Deo Gloria – “to God alone be the glory.” I have immense gratitude for all that God has done here in Canton through so many people working together in this ministry.

Under the pastoring leadership of Dave deVries, “God has done marvelous things” (hymn no. 26) so that we all sing praises with a new song. Further, we all benefit from the generosity of this community: your extravagant financial support, abundant skills, talents, time commitments, heart, prayer, and most importantly, just plain hard work.

Indeed, I have been inspired by our ministers and lay leaders, our support staff, and especially choir members of all ages, many of whom have gone forward to join the heavenly choirs who forever sing to the glory of God’s name: “Holy, holy, holy Lord, God of power and might...” Perhaps one of the most telling influences on my musical, spiritual, and creative development has been from children! As I gradually become more and more of a “grown up” in the faith, alongside a whole generation of young choristers, then teens, and now young adults, I realize how much they have shaped me and formed my hope for the future of the Church and for Christian mission.

Of course I will miss Sunday services in my beloved CPC community, but I am eager to be able to worship in other churches from week to week. I am privileged to be able to continue working with my colleagues on the Spirit & Space team: God-willing, we have less than a year before we all find ourselves in the midst of “holy chaos” to accommodate the construction of several revisions to our building entrances and worship space. Also, as Christ Church has been so generous to me, I hope to give back a tiny portion to my church community by serving on the fringes of some of our non-musical ministries.

Thank you, everyone, for teaching me that God will “take me as I am, will summon out what I shall be, and that God’s seal is set upon my heart to live in me.” (paraphrase, hymn no. 698). Excellence has always been the tradition of glorifying God through music and the arts in Christ Church. I have been so privileged to serve in the long lineage of esteemed musicians; and so many successes in my work here have been by riding on the backs of my predecessors who have served even more ably than I. And thanks to the wise leadership of several dedicated lovers of CPC, we now have this new vision for ministry, succinct and all-inclusive:

The Music Ministry of Christ Presbyterian Church welcomes the community, inspires worship, and nurtures spiritual growth as we celebrate and glorify Creator God, Redeeming Savior, and Holy Spirit.

Grace and peace, through our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, God’s humble servant,
David J. Kienzle
Is there a point to ecological stewardship with the New Earth?

While the Redeeming Revelation sermon series has ended, I find myself wishing that I could have had the time to cover just one more topic. In my last sermon, I focused on the new heaven and the new earth, talking about our ultimate hope and how heaven and earth will mystically be united together forever. Obviously, those are important topics, but we also need to relate the new heaven and the new earth to our faith and life in the here and now. If we’re not careful, we could put so much hope in the future that we devalue our present and particularly our present earth. If we do not firmly ground our theology of the end with a solid theology of God’s good creation, then we might be tempted to throw it all away. Some Christians on the fringes, in reading Revelation, put forth an argument that, if God is going to fix everything at the end anyhow, what’s the point of ecological stewardship today? They would argue that we should use up all the resources of the earth because it’s going away soon.

These folks may forget that way back in Genesis, God called upon humanity to be stewards of the earth. That means that it is our continuing responsibility to take care of the earth by such things as limiting how many resources we use and how much we contribute to pollution. I’m reminded of the song by Shirley Erena Murray, which says, “Touch the earth lightly, use the earth gently, nourish the life of the world in our care: gift of great wonder, ours to surrender, trust for the children tomorrow will bear.” (Hymn No. 713 in Glory to God)

Even while we might proclaim that Christ is coming soon, like the early church, even living into that truth, we have to struggle to figure out how to live in the everyday. What if Christ does not come in this generation or in the next? How do we best answer God’s call to be stewards of creation, while loving God and neighbor? Touch the earth lightly! Care for the earth so that our brothers and sisters and even our children who come after us might be able to enjoy the earth as we do! As it relates to the new earth, one pastor writes that, “It is the job of the church to lead the world in affirming and, more important, enjoying the goodness of creation. We are not going somewhere else at the end of time, because this world is our home. And our home is good” (Bell, Velvet Elvis).

While Revelation says that God will be making all things new, we must stand firm that this does not mean that God is throwing away the old. Instead, God is redeeming and perfecting the old. We must affirm that there is a certain continuity between the old earth and the new earth and there is also a discontinuity. This is just like the resurrection of Jesus and our resurrection, too! The Scots’ Confession reminds us that Jesus lived, died, and rose again into the “selfsame body” (3.11). We affirm that there is continuity here, but there is also a sense of newness to Jesus’ resurrected body, thus discontinuity—something has changed, but not everything. The same is for us. We believe that God will give new life to these bodies in the resurrection at the last day. In the same way, we must affirm that God in Christ will bring about the new heaven and the new earth by redeeming the old. That means that God still values this earth and we must value it, too! Martin Luther supposedly once said, “If I knew the world would end tomorrow, I would plant a tree.” So then, let us both look forward to Christ’s return and plant a tree, investing in this present world that God will perfect.

Pastor Michael

September 15 at 4:00 PM Revelation Epic Tell

“Blessed is the one who reads aloud
the words of the prophecy,
and blessed are those who hear
and who keep what is written in it;
for the time is near.”

These are the first few verses of Revelation and the only time in Scripture that we are told that those who read the words aloud are blessed. With the desire to receive that blessing and to dig deeper into the Bible, we will present a musical adaptation and recitation of the whole book of Revelation on Sunday, September 15 at 4:00 PM. Featuring the Chancel Choir, under the direction of Dr. Britt Cooper, and Heather Cooper at the organ, this worship service will present a reader’s theater-style recitation of John’s visions. We hope that you come to receive a blessing and that you are encouraged in your faith!

Dear Christ Presbyterian,

Thank you for the Scholarship! When I went to China, I felt I did not need to overstress about money. I also got the opportunity to fund one of my USAC friends on a trip. That was very fun. Anyways, I hope you all have a great day.

P.S. Now I can be able to get a minor in Chinese!
Katie Norton

To my Christ Church Family,

Thank you so much for the generous scholarship! I am so grateful for all of the love and support you have given me as I’ve grown up, and I will carry that with me as I head off to college at the University of Toledo.

Thank you and God bless you, with love,
Emma George

Return Service Requested

The Church is charged for every returned Newsletter. If you have moved, or changed a seasonal address, please notify the church office. Thank you.

To be added to the Tydings email list or to submit an article for Tydings, please email dnav@cantonpcp.org no later than Wednesday, September 18, 2019.

As we prepare to celebrate 60 years of changing lives at this year’s 28th annual Camp Wakonda Benefit Auction on Saturday, November 16th, we would be grateful if you would consider donating to this vibrant mission.

With the generous support and contributions of donors like you, the funds raised provide scholarships and promote program development. Below is a form for you to fill out if you choose to make a donation. It can be mailed or faxed (330.456.8115) to the church. Questions? Contact Jennifer George (330.456.8113/jgeorge@cantonpcp.org).

Thank you in advance for your continued support of our campers through our benefit auction.

Form and items should be sent to:
Camp Auction c/o Christ Presbyterian Church, 530 Tuscarawas Street West, Canton, OH 44702
