Faith-full music notes

Some may remember “Once to Every Man and Nation” that was sung in many churches of various denominations. It was sung to a march-like and invigorating tune. Although the hymn (poem) is rarely found in hymnals today, the tune is still popular. Our hymnal has three different hymns to the tune EBENEZER. The tune was supposedly found in a bottle off the coast of Scotland and called Tony-y-Botel. Today’s Pentecost hymn using EBENEZER serves as a call for the faith community to celebrate. Veteran and composer Richard Purvis (1913-1994) had a long tenure with Grace Cathedral in San Francisco. His composition leads us into this season of Pentecost. It is most fitting for all to sing with a full-voice spirit.

ANNOUNCEMENT:

We are looking for One more person to share his/her faith story in July.
