

The Ziad Jazz Quartet and Special Guests

~ Brazilian Jazz ~

Sunday, April 29, 2018

3PM

The 1964 LP Getz/Gilberto showcased two bossa nova innovators, a legendary saxophonist, and a seductive singer in an album that became the centerpiece for Brazilian jazz. The Ziad Jazz Quartet, a frequent performer for the Bechtler Museum of Modern Art's jazz program – and a favorite with Alexander Community Concert goers – adds two more musicians to explore some of the best Brazilian-flavored jazz from that era, including variations on the samba and other Latin genres. An additional percussionist and flutist/saxophonist will join the quartet to make a magical afternoon of Latin élan!

The members of the Episcopal Church of Saint Peter by-the-Lake are pleased to announce the eighth season of the Alexander Community Concert Series, which is dedicated to presenting a variety of musical talents to our entire community in an intimate and welcoming environment.

The Alexander Community Concert Series is named for Richard & Clara Alexander, who have been active members of St. Peter by-the-Lake for many years. Both served for decades as professional educators in New York and North Carolina before retiring. One of their great passions in life has always been involvement in and support for the arts and culture in the Charlotte area. Naming this concert series after them honors that life-long commitment to art, music, and civility in our public discourse.

Eight Track Parade

Sunday, October 1, 2017

3PM

Eight Track Parade, a profoundly polished cover band on the southern rock scene, offers that golden combination of musical chops and great songwriting: refined piano-heavy '70s-fueled rock and solid vocal harmonies producing bright melodies that glide with feel-good momentum. Clearly influenced by the '70s rock and funk era, they have a compelling aspect to their songs which draws both musically and lyrically from R&B and soul. Hear funk medleys sandwiched between blazing rock, pop songs, and soft ballads – something for everyone!

Andrea Mumm

&

Melinda Whittington

Sunday, January 28, 2018

3PM

Andrea Mumm, Charlotte's premier harpist and Principal with the Charlotte Symphony, is joined by Melinda Whittington, a classically trained master of contemporary vocal styles, for a very special performance. Learn about the harp, the magnificent instrument we all love but seldom get to appreciate at close range. Hear every note in all its glory, from angelic serenity to unexpectedly spirited exuberance. Observe at close range the harpist's amazing dexterity. This duo will mesmerize you with their ambiance, elegance, and versatility.

Southern Raised

Sunday, March 11, 2018

3PM

Southern Raised—four award-winning siblings reared in the bluegrass-soaked Ozarks—were initially trained in classical music and have created a trademark sound where classical meets bluegrass and city streets meet country roads. The band's progressive sound is on the cutting edge of creativity, spanning Christian country, bluegrass, and Celtic. Multiple genres meld into one in the talented hands of Southern Raised, and when the siblings croon a ballad, it is nothing short of breathtaking. Be prepared to expect the unexpected as new life is breathed into the music -- and your soul.
