The Rev. Dr. E. Stanley Ott, a part-time teaching pastor of Vienna Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, since October 2006. Prior to this pastorate he served the Pleasant Hills Community Presbyterian Church for many years.

Stan, a popular presenter, conducts regular classes and training seminars designed to help staff and lay leaders understand how to conduct effective ministry in the 21st century. His focus is on the particular ministry of leadership development, whereby he trains pastors and church leaders all over the country. He has written many books on this subject matter, and is the developer of the Vital Churches Institute.

Stan's education includes degrees from Georgia Tech, Purdue University, and McCormick Theological Seminary.
