

Presbytery of Transylvania

Across the Woods

Art Kinsler—Missionary in South Korea Visits Area

Since 1972 Art and Sue Kinsler have been mission co-workers in Korea. Art has been involved with evangelism in Korea as a co-laborer with the Presbyterian Church of Korea (PCK). This service included church planting in rural Korea and industrial mission in new factory cities, Christian outreach through the Bible Club schools for the disadvantaged and teaching, as well as serving in the General Assembly offices of the PCK, a denomination with two and one-half million members. Sue has worked with the physically challenged through a vocational school, sheltered workshop, and the Fig Tree Association.

“During a time when Korean Presbyterian churches have grown to maturity and church growth has slowed, it is a challenge to be one of the few mission workers remaining as a bridge to the world church, a link to the church’s roots and institutions, and a fellow servant ministering in Christ’s name,” says Art. In 1999, on reaching age 65 Art became a mission volunteer. Since his “retirement,” he has worked as the facilitator and treasurer of the office that supports PC(USA) mission work in Korea. His work with correspondence, reports and visitors at the church headquarters is balanced by preaching at Yonsei University’s global worship and the English or Korean worship services of Korean congregations. More about Art and Sue Kinsler and their work can be found here.

Art will be visiting Transylvania Presbytery arriving Oct. 19. His schedule is as follows:

- ◆ October 19—Lexington Korean Church at 6:30 PM
- ◆ October 21—Preaching at First, Ashland followed by lunch. He will then travel to First, Prestonsburg in the afternoon.
- ◆ October 23—Art will be doing a presentation and lunch with First, Somerset
- ◆ Dinner and program at Versailles Presbyterian with three other Woodford County churches invited.
- ◆ October 25—Visiting the Presbytery office and Coffee and Dessert with presentation at First, Lexington at 7PM.

If you need additional information regarding this schedule, please contact Rev. Jon Martin, Pisgah, Versailles—859-873-4161.

Make plans now to attend the December Presbytery meeting.

Friday, November 30th at The Springs Inn—dinner with Joan Gray, Moderator of the 217th General Assembly.
December 1—meeting at Maxwell St., Lexington

New to Use . . .

Send us your news! Email to:
stempleton@transyby.org

Your news and prayer concerns are important to us! Please send yours to Share! at: stempleton@transyby.org

- ◆ Looking for great food, good fellowship and time for study—join the folks at Chapel Hill, Lexington for Wednesday Night Live! Every Wednesday beginning at 5:30.
- ◆ Take the Mayo Clinic Health Assessment and receive a Gift Certificate for dinner!
- 2007 Pace-Warren Lecture Series—October 13-15 at Second Presbyterian, Lexington. Details available here.
- Plan now for the Calvin Retreat—February 8-9 at Shaker Village. Information available here or you may call Rev. Susan Warren—502-839-4195 or email her at: presbypas-tor@dcr.net
- 2007 Continuing Education for Commissioned Lay Pastors & Lay Preachers “Come To The Mountain” October 24-26. Information and online registration available here.
- Children in Crisis Conference—October 26-27 at Asbury College in Wilmore.
- Presbyterian Women Fall Gathering—October 20, 2007 at Camp Burnamwood. Registration forms available at the Presbytery office or by calling Juanita Callahan—606-666-9270.
- Check out the Presbytery calendar on our website. If you see something missing, please let us know.
- Woody Berry (pastor, Maxwell Street, Lexington) and his wife, Jan, are traveling to Israel. To keep up with their travels, click here!

Remember in Prayer

- ◆ Retired Pastor, Roy Hicks, recovering from brain surgery in Somerset.
- ◆ Art Kinsler, traveling to Transylvania Presbytery.
- ◆ Our churches
- ◆ Our college students.
- ◆ Our military families.
- ◆ Our Presbytery
- ◆ Retired minister, Ruth Fiscella, asks you remember her son, Clark, who is hospitalized.