

Just what is Summer '08 Alpha?

Is it about the 'beginnings' of new friendships...is it about great discussions...
... or is it perhaps about an opportunity for speaking out yet learning what God has to say on perplexing questions?

Believe it or not, it's all of the above, and yet....

... it's far more. It's about exploring the big questions of life. At the very least, Alpha is a time where you can ask about things relative to Christianity with like-minded individuals interested in asking, exploring and learning more.

Of course, some of the biggest questions involve God: Is there a God? I've heard about God over the years—how much of what I've heard is true? What about all the other religions out there?

Alpha is an opportunity to explore these and other questions, and to consider what the historical Jesus might have to do with our lives today. Again, it all happens with others who are questioning too; a place to discuss, not to argue.

Please join others for dinner & learn more about Alpha on Monday night June 16th at 6:30pm to see and hear the introduction to the 10- week study that will include dessert, talks and discussions. This first night is not a commitment , its simply a chance to see if Alpha might be for you. Invite a friend to come with you and learn more about the course that explores how faith can affect our everyday life. The topic for the evening is,

"Christianity: Boring, Untrue, Irrelevant?"

Lori and Kenneth Dioguardi, the hosts for Summer '08 Alpha, have graciously offered their home Monday evenings at 2315 Orchard Crest Blvd. Manasquan. They do need to know how many to expect for dinner on June 16th, and Ellie Buannic, Alpha Leader, wants to add your name to a list already started and will answer all your questions.
