A Sunday of New Hymns

Psalm 96:1 states, "Sing a new song to the Lord!" God has been faithful to bless each generation with songwriters to provide new music to help us worship him. During our worship time on Sunday, May 4, we will learn and enjoy a few very recently composed hymns. They are easy to learn, the music and texts are beautiful, and a couple of them already are well on their way to becoming standards in the church, taking their place along hymns by composers such as Fanny Crosby, Charles Wesley, and John Newton. Imagine being among the first to sing a hymn that might be a favorite in church services a century from now. Come with an open heart on May 4 to see how God might speak to your heart through these new hymns.
