

Community
Missions
at DCPC

Believing that all persons are of equal value to God, the Community Missions Committee seeks appropriate ways for our congregation to witness to God's love through service to people who may need assistance, with emphasis on the local and extended community. DCPC members have a long tradition of sharing our time and talents in ways that witness to God's love.

Volunteer Opportunities

2018

Community Missions at DCPC

The Community Missions Committee has reviewed the process used to allocate benevolence funding. There are four basic areas of focus; 1) Hunger, 2) Housing, 3) Healthcare, & 4) Children. The local non-profit agencies we support typically have some connection to our church. Examples include church members who serve or work for a local non-profit, and/or members & church staff who volunteer with an agency. Our community is defined as the towns & neighborhoods where the members of DCPC live, work, and serve, with the focus being on the general Lake Norman Region.

Each agency that receives funding must submit an application each year that is reviewed by the committee to determine their suitability (Agency requests must be submitted to the church office by the end of September). Our ability to fund agency requests is based on the amount of funds established by the Session for local benevolences during their annual budgeting process. In 2017 48% of the Community Missions local benevolence budget went to three agencies; 1) Davidson Housing Coalition, 2) Ada Jenkins Center, & 3) Crisis Assistance Ministry.

This Volunteer Opportunities booklet lists many of the agencies we support along with a brief description of their ministry and contact information. On the last page of the booklet you'll find the 2017 Community Missions Budget approved by the Session. The Community Missions Committee would like to make sure that everyone at DCPC has the opportunity to be actively serving in our community. Feel free to contact anyone of us if you have questions or suggestions about this important ministry at DCPC.

Special Partnership with Blythe Elementary School

In April 2014, the Session of DCPC voted to enter into a partnership with Blythe Elementary School. We are happy to be following in the footsteps of our theological forebear, John Calvin, who founded an academy for the children of Geneva out of his deeply held belief in the importance of universal education.

Catherine Bragg and Rosemary Klein are the co-chairs of the effort and have met with other enthusiastic volunteers to establish the partnership. They are excited to report that there is something that every single person at DCPC can do to plug into helping the wonderful children at this school. Some members work on a regular basis in the classroom with small groups or reading with individual children; many families contribute food during the summer for Blythe students who do not have enough to eat; some members help provide special breakfasts or lunches for the teachers to thank them for their efforts; there are many one-time needs that our members fill, such as cataloging books, being a guest reader in a classroom, helping to plant a garden, or assisting with the book fair. The needs are great, and the opportunities numerous!! For more information, contact Rosemary Klein, 704-892-8306; klein924@earthlink.net.
