Did You Know:

- ⇒ The IRS requires religious organizations to provide written acknowledgement of:
  - Individual contributions of $250 or more on a given day
  - Quid pro quo gifts (something for something) over $75
  - All non-cash gifts (which should be itemized)
- ⇒ The IRS does not require the church to place a value on non-cash gifts of property such as clothes, food, books, supplies, equipment, furniture, artwork, land, or other property. However, the acknowledgement or receipt should provide a description of the property donated.
