

My First Spam

From: Postini Support [<mailto:customer care@postini corp.com>]
Sent: Tuesday, March 30, 2004 10:09 PM
To: Rusty Sandoval
Subject: Postini First Junk Email Safely Quarantined

Dear Rusty@companyABC.com,

Postini's new junk email protection service has quarantined its first suspected junk email message directed at you.

Since you have not signed in at your personal Postini Message Center, we are sending this notification informing you of the service's initial action. After this notification, we will begin the standard practice of sending notifications of quarantined messages on a regular basis.

You can inspect your suspicious email at:

<http://login.postini.com/exec/login?email=rusty@postini.com>

Your temporary password is: xj34fg

Suspicious email is kept in your Postini Message Center for 14 days, after which it will be automatically deleted.

Please visit your Postini Message Center to deliver valid email or delete messages you do not want. For help accessing and configuring your Postini Message Center, please visit:

<http://www.postini.com/services/help.html>

Thank You!

Postini